1. Click > My Content on the left-hand navigation panel

2. Set > Weekly Goal to set up regular learning pace and remind you to keep learning.

AI Coaching as a Course Companion

Learners can enhance their comprehension by getting instant summaries, explanations, and examples with the help of AI while watching LinkedIn Learning videos

Learners can write prompts and ask questions about the video they are currently watching.

For example:

- Key takeaways from this video
- Help me understand [insert topic from video] better
- How does [insert topic from video] apply to me?

The feature will use generative AI tools to review the course metadata and transcripts of the current video (and some other recently watched videos) to instantly answer the learner's prompts in a personalized manner.

The screenshot displays the LinkedIn Learning platform. At the top, there's a search bar with the text "What do you want to learn today?". The main video player shows a man in a white shirt and glasses speaking, with a purple light fixture in the background. The video title is "Communicating with confidence" and the subtitle is "The three elements of proper communication". Below the video player, there are tabs for "Overview", "Q&A", "Notebook", and "Transcript". The "Overview" tab is selected, showing the instructor's profile: Vinh Giang, International Keynote Speaker | Communication Skills Teacher, with a "Follow on LinkedIn" button. Below this, the "Course details" section shows "35min · Beginner · Released: 2/20/2024" and a star rating of 4.5 (3,284 reviews). To the right of the video player, there's a sidebar with a red border. It contains the video title, a prompt "Which element of communication is the most important?", and an AI-generated response: "The video highlights that while all three elements (vocal, visual, and verbal) are essential, research suggests the visual aspect — how we look and carry ourselves — has the most significant impact, at 55%, on how others perceive our attitudes and emotions. It's important to strive for excellence in all three to be a powerful communicator." At the bottom of the sidebar is a "Write a response" input field.

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQ)

What is LinkedIn Learning?

LinkedIn Learning is an online learning platform that combines a library of more than 24,000 courses taught by real-world experts, with LinkedIn data and insights drawn from 1 Billion+ member profiles and billions of interactions. These insights give you a unique and real-time view of how jobs, industries, organizations, and skills are evolving, while helping you identify the skills that your organization needs to succeed. These insights also fuel course recommendations that connect learners to the most relevant, applicable learning that is easy to engage with on any device.

What types of courses are available?

There are over 24,000 digital courses taught by industry experts across content areas of Business, Technology and Creative. New courses are added each week!

How do I get access to LinkedIn Learning?

- Desktop : visit and bookmark this link
- Mobile : download LinkedIn Learning App from App Store or Google Play.

Is my LinkedIn Networking Profile the same or linked to the LinkedIn Learning License?

Your LinkedIn Profile is separate from your LinkedIn Learning account. However, you may choose to connect the two accounts for better learning recommendations. Learn more about connecting your profile here and here.

How do I search for courses and find what's relevant for me?

There are a lot of courses in the LinkedIn Learning library! Here are a few tips for refining your search. The more specific you can make your search terms, the better your results will be. Use the filters to narrow your search results and find the course that's right for you. If you find an instructor you like, search for more courses by that they have made.

What is the difference between a LinkedIn Course vs Learning Path?

LinkedIn Learning courses run between 1-2 hours long and are made up of stand-alone videos that are typically 2-5 minutes long. Learning Paths are a curated list of courses on a specific topic. Learning Paths are designed to give you the foundational knowledge you need on a particular topic. When searching for content, you can filter by content type, video, course, or Learning Path.

Is there mobile access?

Yes, all courses on LinkedIn Learning are also optimized for multiple devices, such as an iPhone or Android-enabled smart phones or a tablet. Get the App from the App Store or Google Play.

Can I download courses for offline viewing?

Yes, all courses can be viewed online or offline on LinkedIn Learning App (not available for desktop yet). You can learn while commuting or traveling.

How much time should be spent on LinkedIn Learning at work?

It's recommended to set a weekly learning goal at least 15 minutes for a start. Note: Please also look out for and follow your organisation's guidance if any.

Are any of the courses or Learning Paths required for me to complete?

Please look out for your organisation's intranet channels as well as Assigned by and Recommended by section in your LinkedIn Learning – My Library.

What if I have a question to ask about LinkedIn Learning?
